Brintons

Manchester United is valued as the biggest football club in the world and its Old Trafford stadium – affectionately known as the Theatre of Dreams – is comfortably the biggest in the English Premier League, with seating for 76,000 spectators.

When the stadium was redeveloped to increase its capacity and improve the facilities available to spectators, Brintons was commissioned to design and supply carpet for the new executive boxes that were constructed between the bottom and top tiers of the East Stand at Old Trafford.
