Project: The Wren

Details: 5,300 SY Axminster

Brintons partnered with Edit @ Streetsense to design and manufacture a little over 5,300 square yards of custom carpet for The Wren, a new multifamily building in Washington, D.C.. The Streetsense team opted for a warm textural Axminster pattern to weave throughout the amenity areas and corridors—creating a calm and organic space.

“We try to work with Brintons on every project that comes into our office. The Brintons team is so easy to work with and we are never disappointed with the final product. Brintons ended up having to revise the corridor carpet design to fit the loom, and the corridors turn out amazing in the end.”
