The Ampersand Hotel is set in a stunning Victorian building dating back to 1888 in South Kensington, London. The interior Designers have taken their inspiration from surrounding attractions such as the V&A, Royal Albert Hall and the museums of Natural History and Science to create a quintessential British design theme featuring botany, music, ornithology, astronomy and geometry

> We have worked with Brintons on a number of projects and have always found them to be an asset to a project. The design team were able to take our initial concept ideas and turn them into some stunning final designs
